Presidents Week

Presidents week is here! While the actual holiday is Monday, 2/20, the whole week will feel busy.

Please make sure to check your schedule and show up on time. We've seen an uptick in non-illness related call outs and staff arriving late. If you are sick, please DO NOT come to work, but if you scheduled and able, please show up for your shift. We pre-sell lessons based on who is scheduled and available. If you decide you can't come, it has a direct impact upon your peers and guests who want to take a lesson from you! If you indeed can't make your shift, do make sure to communicate.

We have made a commitment to you with pass benefits, food discounts, Mtn Exchange, Training clinics, pro deals (and more), so please help us by fulfilling your schedule commitment to us.

Update to Health Screen Process

Starting this week, employees working on-site are only required to complete the health-screening questionnaire if they are experiencing symptoms or have tested positive for COVID-19 with the past 5 days of their shift. This change aligns with guidance from public health authorities and enables us to maintain a safe work environment for our team members along with notification and tracking for Emergency Sick Leave as applicable.

Continuous Listening Survey

Next Wednesday, Feb. 22nd, we will launch the next Continuous Listening Survey for all seasonal and year-round employees. Please take this opportunity to share your thoughts anonymously.

The results of this survey, partnered with last month's survey data, will have a direct impact upon the actions we take moving towards the latter part of this season and into next. We appreciate your feedback and any ideas, suggestions or opportunities you see.
